

After I hurt myself at work last year, I went through three different physical therapy sessions and chiropractic care with no relief from the neck pain.

I was then referred to Neil by my corporate health physician to get to the root of my problem. After (1) one month of treatment, my neck is finally on the road to recovery.

I would highly recommend Neil to anyone with similar problems. He was very patient and thorough in his treatment program. He looked beyond the neck as a main source of the problem and treated everything, not just the main pain of the injury.

Please feel free to use me as a reference for new clients.

Sincerely,
Beth N.
